

Marital Status Change

Find out if this form is for you

Use this form to tell us of a change in your marital status. You can also change your marital status using MyCRA or MyBenefits CRA mobile web applications at canada.ca/cra-mobile-apps, My Account at canada.ca/my-cra-account, or by calling 1-800-387-1193. In some situations, you may be eligible for additional child and family benefits. For more information, see page 3.

You must tell the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) by the end of the month following the month in which your status changed. However, do not tell us of your separation until you have been separated for more than 90 consecutive days.

Step 3 – Your new marital status

Select the box that applies to your new status (select only one box):

- ☐ Married – you are legally married to someone.
- ☐ Living common-law – you are living in a conjugal relationship with someone to whom you are not married and to whom at least one of the following situations applies. They:
- have been living with you for at least 12 continuous months. This includes any period you were separated for less than 90 days because of a breakdown in your relationship
 - are the parent of your child by birth or adoption
 - have custody and control of your child (or had custody and control immediately before the child turned 19 years of age) and your child is wholly dependent on that person for support
- ☐ Separated – you have been living apart from your spouse or common-law partner because of a breakdown in the relationship for a period of at least 90 days and you have not reconciled.
- Once you have been separated for 90 days, the effective day of your separated status is the date you started living apart.
- ☐ Divorced – you were married and are now legally divorced.
- ☐ Widowed – your spouse or common-law partner is deceased.
- ☐ Single – you are single and none of the above apply.

Enter the date this status began:

Personal information (including the SIN) is collected and used to administer or enforce the Income Tax Act and related programs and activities including administering tax, benefits, audit, compliance, and collection. The information collected may be disclosed to other federal, provincial, territorial, aboriginal, or foreign government institutions to the extent authorized by law. Failure to provide this information may result in paying interest or penalties, or in other actions. Under the Privacy Act, individuals have a right of protection, access to and correction of their personal information, and to file a complaint with the Privacy Commissioner of Canada regarding the handling of their personal information. Refer to Personal Information Bank CRA PPU 005, CRA PPU 063, and CRA PPU 140 on Info Source at canada.ca/cra-info-source.

After you send this form

When the CRA gets notification of your change in marital status, your child and family benefits and credits will be recalculated taking into consideration all of the following:

- your new marital status
- your new adjusted family net income
- the number of children in your care and their age
- your province or territory of residence

Note

You cannot use this form to make a correction to a previously reported marital status change. Corrections must be sent in writing to your tax centre.

Your new marital status may change the number of children in your care (for example, a new child in your care or a new shared-custody arrangement). You will need to let the CRA know, as this may affect your child and family benefits and credits. For more information, go to canada.ca/canada-child-benefit or read Booklet T4114, Canada Child Benefit.

The CRA may validate your marital status at a later date.

When your payments will be adjusted

Your benefit and credit payments, including any related provincial or territorial program payments (if you are eligible), will be adjusted accordingly and reflected on subsequent payments. If your change in marital status has resulted in a new shared custody arrangement of a child, let the CRA know as soon as possible. For more information on the CCB, go to canada.ca/canada-child-benefit or read Booklet T4114, Canada Child Benefit.

For more information on the GST/HST credit, go to canada.ca/gst-hst-credit or read Guide RC4210, GST/HST Credit.

For more information on the CCR, go to canada.ca/canada-carbon-rebate or read Guide RC4215, Canada Carbon Rebate.

Direct deposit

Direct deposit is a fast, convenient, and secure way to receive your CRA payments directly in your account at a financial institution in Canada. For more information and ways to enrol, go to canada.ca/cra-direct-deposit or contact your financial institution.
